

Weaving Wisdom from Two Cultures: Maori Earth Wisdom and Deep Ecology

Maikara Ropata, educator, musician, grandmother, a weaver of people and guardian of Maori cultural customs and practices,

and

John Seed, a practitioner and global spokesperson of the philosophy of deep ecology for 30 years,

Come together in the beautiful wharenuī (house of the ancestors) at Piritahi Marae

Tuesday 28 March, 6:30pm, Piritahi Marae, Waiheke Island

They will interweave their worlds, share stories, poetry and music around Earth Wisdom, creating a sense of place and finding rootedness in the living Earth, from which vision and empowerment flow into us.

Participation by koha

Contact (after March 15) Michael for details and bookings: michael@aroha.net